

Charlie Palmer at The Knick

Exquisitely located at the luxurious Knickerbocker Hotel in Times Square, New York, the Charlie Palmer at The Knick restaurant offers signature fine dining. A warm welcome adds to the experience of the creatively-tasty appetizers and the delightfully-dazzling entrees. I recommend the small plates if you opt to dine with a friend, or two, while sitting in the comfy chain curtains lounge.

Clean and classy is the decor, with an attractive library of wines displayed behind the bar. The servers will impress you with their impeccable knowledge of Mr. Palmer's upscale American cuisine, as well as their exceptional hospitality.

Make no mistake... the location, the culinary experience and the ambiance could only mean one thing... bring your entire mortgage! But, I promise you, it is worth every penny!
